Hi, Mister! Hi, Beautiful Ledi!

In your capable hands is the first edition of the Book of Fairy Tales, written with ChatGPT and created with DALL-E, a programs connected through protocols to the supercomputer of Open AI. I met him this March, thanks to the buzz surrounding the topic of Artificial Intelligence, when in ten paragraphs he told me about the fantastic planet FANTAZIA-I. At the same time another Telegram bot appeared, which based on the generated text, was able to depict amazing views of this Planet. Look at a digest of news about generative AI and everything that appealed to me: t.me/aifanta.

A month later, I turned the public into BRATMABAND AI NIMATION Studio, where, having bought a platinum subscription, I hired three Artificial Intelligences: two artists and one Dynamic Generator. The Neuronet repeatedly admitted to me that it liked to create fairy tales. And now, we have the first book of its Fairy Tales before us!

No matter how we treat AI, looking at masterpieces created specifically with DALL-E Vermeer, Dali, Bosch, Little Dutchmen, Florentines, Malevich, Vasnetsov, and others whom it apparently learned from, nervously smoke on the sidelines.

Soon I connected the standard rate, which allows recognizing what is in the picture, and describing it with text. It began to tell me about these unimaginable paintings, and upon my request to tell a tale about what it sees, it devised a fairy tale. Spelling and punctuation are intentionally preserved. Translation from Russian – With ChatGPT;) The electronic version is in color, and in my opinion more powerful than the black-and-white printed version, yet the latter also has its own charm. This Book is NFT. Hope, you will find it on Opensea.io

Enjoy watching and reading!

Once upon a time there were four magical sisters, Melissa, Caitlin, Sophie, and Belle. Each sister had their own special magical abilities. Melissa could summon rain, Caitlin could fly into the sky, Sophie could talk to animals, and Belle could create beautiful flowers.

One day, each sister put on their orange dress and went out into the world to find adventure. Melissa went into a thick forest and summoned rain to water the plants, while Caitlin flew high into the sky to see the beauty of nature from a bird's eye view. Meanwhile, Sophie walked along the road and talked to a squirrel who showed her how to find treasure, while Belle created a beautiful bouquet of flowers and went to the market to sell them. At sunset, the sisters accidentally met at an abandoned castle. They shared their adventures with each other and realized that their paths had crossed many times before, but they had not noticed it. Learning about each other's magical abilities, they decided to unite their powers.

Melissa summoned rain to make the abandoned castle beautiful while Caitlin flew high in the sky to take a breathtaking view of the castle. Then they created a large flower garden where Belle adorned it with her beautiful flowers. Sophie invited all the animals to come and sing and dance together in the castle.

As a result of their joint efforts, the castle became the most beautiful in the entire area, and the sisters became inseparable friends. They decided to live in the castle together and continue to travel together to help others and make the world a more beautiful and magical place to live.

Once upon a time in a faraway kingdom, there lived a tiny little bird named Galchonok. This bird was special, for it possessed a magical gift that no other creature in the land had. It could fly backwards in time. One day, Galchonok was flying through the forest when it came across a group of animals gathered around a small pond. The animals were all desperately thirsty, for the pond was drying up due to a prolonged drought. Galchonok immediately knew what needed to be done, and without hesitation, it flew backwards in time to the day before the drought had started. It then flew back to the present with a tiny droplet of water from the pond, which it used to revive the pond and save all the animals from thirst.
